

Bonjour mes amis! Aujourd'hui c'est mercredi le huit, avril! Il fait du soleil! Ca va?

I'd like to start today by welcoming Ms. Pour to our team! She is a new teacher at Buckingham, and she actually worked with you all for one day when I was away! She will be taking over for Ms. Liu to support our class with English language resources – she has already made a channel in teams where she will post helpful things to improve your English skills. She may also help me give some feedback to you on some of your work for things like grammar and structure. Welcome Ms. Pour!

Please note that I will be in a staff meeting today at 10am so I won't be responding to your questions at that time.

Here is your outline for today!

- DHOA – Find this week's higher order thinking activity as a new Assignment. Due tomorrow night.
- Digital Citizenship Quest Part 3 BEWARE one part of this activity needs you to track your technology use for a whole week! That means you have to start TODAY! Don't procrastinate!
- Band – Practice your instrument for 30 minutes
- Drama – I've created an assignment in Teams for planning your monologue. This assignment is only meant for the people in drama, but everyone is welcome to do it! Read the instructions today and start finding or writing your monologue.
- LA – Hand in your Spring Break journal on Teams. Read for 30 minutes (reminder to finish your BOTB book by Monday)
- Work on your art and anything from SS and ADST you should be doing
- A reminder that Duolingo is due tomorrow and we have our first community circle Team meeting tomorrow at 11:30am. If you are not on your computer at that time or you don't want to participate, that's ok, you don't have to 😊
- PE – Check out the PHE channel if you haven't been there. I've posted all the exercise videos I've given you so far as well as an activity log we will start using next week. Find a yoga video you like today for Wellness Wednesdays.

Have a whimsical Wednesday everyone!