Draw a picture of your family ice-skating. 	Tell a story about five snowmen and five children.	Read about a menorah. Tell someone what it is.	Sing a favorite winter celebration song. 	Draw a picture of your whole body and label important parts.
Put on at least four winter clothing items.	Think of an imaginary pet. What would it do? Act it out.	Read about Christmas trees. Tell why people put them in their houses.	Write your address.	Have someone read The Gingerbread Man to you.
Make wrapping paper by dipping cookie cutters into paint and pressing them on paper.	Name three animals that like cold weather. 	Do 15 jumping jacks. Ask an adult to do them with you.	Name five things you like about your best friend.	Make a wish for the coming year.
Name all the things that remind you of your favorite winter celebration.	Finish this sentence: If I could give all the children in the world a gift, my gift would be . . .	Draw a picture of five penguins. How many eyes do they have altogether?	Write your name vertically. Write a word that starts with each letter of your name.	Plan a New Year's Eve party just for kids.
If you could have one gift, what would it be? Why?	Make hot chocolate with an adult. 	Write a thank-you note to someone who gave you a gift.	If you could be a toy, which one would you be? Why?	Finish this sentence: This year was great because . . .

December

Many children can 'read' symbols of familiar places (Safeway, Home Depot) and labels of products their families purchase regularly.

- Have your child show you the labels he/she can 'read' at your house.
- Peel off or cut out the labels and attach them to this paper.
- Print the words "I can read ..." in front of the label.
- Return your child's list to school!
