

Midori counts the number of centimetres between the arrows by counting the number of "hops" it takes to move between them:

1. Measure the distance between the two arrows by counting the number of centimetres between them.

2. Measure the distance between the arrows.
Count carefully – the first arrow is not at the beginning of the ruler.

3. Measure the distance between the arrows.

