"Running Home"

Take my heart you can fall out of love
What you want or whatever you need
Where you go you are never alone
What you want

I've been chasing this for years
My legs don't work the way that they used to
But that changed when I found you
You're scared that I will disappear
But I swear I could die in this bedroom
If only you knew

You could take a piece of my heart you could rip it up
You could fall so out of love you could do whatever you want
And I'd never leave I'd be whatever you need
No matter the places you go I'll always follow
Never let you be alone I'd have no shoes on my feet
I'd go till they bleed If I'm what you need

I'm runnin' on home to you-you, oh, you-you
If loving you is the last thing I do-do, do-do
I'd live true, true
I'd live a thousand lives
Die a million times, and I'd be just fine
As long as you were mine, least one time
I'm runnin' on home to you-you, oh, you-you

Tell me all the reasons why you're overthinking all of my actions
I can't fake attraction I can help you ease your mind
Want you to feel truest satisfaction
I'll show you some passion

You could take a piece of my heart you could rip it up
You could fall so out of love you could do whatever you want
And I'd never leave I'd be whatever you need
No matter the places you go I'll always follow
Never let you be alone I'd have no shoes on my feet
I'd go till they bleed If I'm what you need

I'm runnin' on home to you-you, oh, you-you
If loving you is the last thing I do-do, do-do
I'd live true, true
I'd live a thousand lives
Die a million times, and I'd be just fine

As long as you were mine, least one time
I'm runnin' on home to you-you, oh, you-you

Take my heart you can fall out of love
What you want or whatever you need
Where you go you are never alone
Oh, can I make you feel
Oh, something so real
Oh, something so real

I'm runnin' on home to you-you, oh, you-you
If loving you is the last thing I do-do, do-do
I'd live true, true
I'd live a thousand lives
Die a million times, and I'd be just fine
As long as you were mine, least one time
I'm runnin' on home to you-you, oh, you-you
